FOWT 2023: May 10–12th 2023, Nantes, France

Submission deadline: October 28, 2022

Official language is English

FOWT 2023's central theme will be: "FOWT: a global commitment."

Each of your submissions will need to address one the following topics, will need to be original and specifically prepared for FOWT 2023:

1. Reindustrialization through local added value: How to reconcile local added value and objectives of reindustrialization while facing the challenges of carbon footprint reduction and cost reduction.
2. Open to outsiders: translating neighboring industry knowledge and innovations to FOW development: Success stories and projects of companies from other sectors (aerospace, naval construction...) translating their technologies and practices to benefit floating wind and how to leverage these cross-sectoral applications.
3. O&M and decommissioning: Costs that can make or break a commercial-scale project.
4. Consolidation of floater technologies to satisfy non-recourse project financing criteria: Myth or reality?
5. Minimizing Carbon footprint: Optimizing local value creation and ROI.
6. Highly Technical & Academic papers: We are open to highly technical and academic papers on a variety of topics related to FOW for our Academic sessions (Day 2).
